What is unusual about your hometown, place of work or job?
My hometown is predominantly Republican and we have a tough time achieving or maintaining a strong union support.

What does this year’s theme, “A Union That Works” mean to you?
It means that we’re a union that acts. We’re not a union that sits back and waits until we’re in a position where we have to react.

What issues will be important when your Local’s contract expires?
Preserving the things that we’ve gained through the years of collective bargaining and striving to achieve longevity.

What is the most “political” thing you have done?
I have actually done a lot. I’ve rallied against Right-To-Work. I’ve done phone banking. I called my legislators when Rapid Response called upon us.

What career option do you think Chris Christie and/or Rob Ford should pursue?
I think Chris Christie should be a tollbooth worker for shutting down the highways when he tried to suppress the votes.

Who would you prefer to have dinner with, and why: Hilary Clinton, Lady Gaga, Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker, Will Smith, Richard Trumka or Jennifer Lawrence?
Scott Walker so I could stick him with the bill.

What’s the best thing about the Convention so far?
Reverend Barber. He really knew what he was talking about. He really kept the crowd engaged and was really emotional.

What things do you hope to do while you’re here?
Take everything in and gain as much knowledge as I can. Learn some new things as far as new media and how we can use that to go forward.

Have you yet decided how you will put the convention to work when you return home?
I’ve chosen not to wait until I get home. We are constantly posting on Facebook and learning new things on how to post. So we’re actually taking the step now and doing it as we’re here.
