Dear Members of USW Locals 12003 and 12012-4,

UNITE, the largest union in the United Kingdom and Ireland, fully supports you in your efforts to obtain a fair contract with National Grid, a UK-based utility company.

We recognize that the skill and experience you bring to the job is crucial in providing essential public services. USW members are on the front lines in responding to emergency calls, repairing gas leaks and maintaining vital infrastructure

It's time for National Grid to bargain in good faith and recognize the value that USW members bring to the job each and every day. It's imperative that the health and safety of National Grid employees and the general public not be compromised.

USW members should be allowed to work whilst discussions take place with the company.

We pledge our full support to the members of USW Locals 12003 and 12012-4 as you organize to win a fair contract and we will make our safety concerns known to the management of National Grid in the United Kingdom.

In Solidarity,

Peter McIntosh
National Officer Energy & Utilities
